IN THE PETROLEUM FIELDS.

There have been no striking develop ments in the various oil fields during the last week. Operations have been on a somewhat larger scale, but the wells completed have been of the average class of producers. Prospectors in nearly all sections continue their search for new producing territory or for extensions of the present defined fields, but generally speaking these efforts have been attended with only partial success. Work in many localities has been on a larger scale, especially in the Central West, particularly in the Clinton sand territory in Central Ohio, which district promises greater activity

The latest advices from this district report the bringing in of a gusher by the South Penn Oil Company, which began to flow with considerable force and which produced 2% barrels in the first hour. Subsequently the force of the flow tore away some of the casing and other apparatus. A number of wells are now producing from 50 to 1,500 barrels a day.

In Central Ohio preparations are being made for an extensive testing of the Clinton sand fields. In the Straitsville-Gore district the wells being drilled show good staying quality. Reports from Tulsa, Okla, to the effect that a 4,000-barrel gusher was brought in, have been denied. Several wells with capcities ranging upto sevenly-five barrels have been completed. Work in the Cushing development is proceeding slowly and about six wells are in course of drilling.
